Dear Dr. Li,

I am a year 3 student, majoring in Chemistry here at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. I am writing to ask about opportunities for summer research in your lab.

I took the course Perspective in Clinical Science last semester, and the lecture on Stem Cells and Tissue Regeneration was given by you. It was inspiring and interesting, which allowed me to understand more about applications of stem cells in clinical aspect. Your teaching was well-organised and clear, which makes me think I can learn much from you if I have the chance to volunteer in your lab. I am fascinated by what stem cells can do and hope to understand more. It is really amazing that a tiny stem cell has the ability to repair any of our body and I want to know more about it through summer research.

I understand you are very busy and would appreciate an opportunity to talk with you. I would like to learn more about your research lab's work and I would be happy to volunteer in your lab for a few weeks first before we commit to anything to see if this is a good match.

Thank you very much and really appreciate any assistance you could give me. My resume is attached for your reference. Thank you again for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Eric Chan
